

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A wind deflector assembly includes a resilient member which extends above the vehicle roof when in the deployed position so as to operate as a wind deflector. The resilient member deploys due to the flexibility of the material such that the free state is the deployed condition. Operation of the closure member collapses or folds over the resilient member from the deployed free state to a collapsed state.

N:\Clients\MERITOR\IP01905\PATENT\meritorapp-1905.doc